

The Bus

Everyday I take the bus.

Everyday I take the bus to work.

I wait for the bus at the bus stop on Main Street.

Each morning I wait for the bus at the bus stop on Main Street.

The bus comes every twenty minutes.

Every twenty minutes a bus comes along Main Street.

The driver stops the bus and I get on.

The driver always says hello, how are you?

The bus driver always says, hello, how are you?

I say hello and take my seat.

Sometimes the bus is crowded.

But I can always find a place to sit.

All kinds of people take the bus.

Old people and young people take the bus.

Asian people, Spanish people, black people, white people take the bus.

Young people and old people take the bus.

White people and black people, Spanish people and Asian people, take the bus.

The bus stops for everyone.

And the bus ride is free.

Everyday I take the bus.

Everyday I take the bus to work.

All kinds of people take the bus.
