

Let's Go to That New Restaurant

Let's go to that new restaurant.

You can order anything that you want.

Hamburgers, hot dogs, french fries too.

Let's go now, that's what we'll do.

It's not too far, just around the block.

We'll sit and eat and laugh and talk.

There are so many items on the menu.

Tonight's the night to try something new.

They serve bowls of soup with thick slices of bread.

They always make sure everyone is well-fed.

They bring plates of salad with onions and tomatoes.

They have chicken and turkey and mashed potatoes.

And eggplant, linguini, spaghetti and meatballs.

Do not worry about your cholesterol.

They even have buns that are gluten-free.

And for dessert they serve pie and coffee.

Let's go to that new restaurant.

You can get anything that you want.
