

Sal Can Speak

Sal can speak three languages.

He speaks English, Spanish and French.

He is speaking French on the phone to his daughter.

Terry can run more than ten miles.

She runs three days a week.

She is running at the park with her husband.

Fred can paint that room for you.

He paints houses for a living.

He is painting my house now.

Rosa can work tonight.

She works five mornings a week.

She is working full-time as a waitress in a diner.

Jose can cook breakfast for us.

He cooks breakfast all the time.

He is cooking pancakes this morning.

Alice can type your report.

She types in her office each day.

She is typing on a Macintosh computer.

Omar can read in Arabic.

He reads Arabic newspapers every week.

He is reading the newspaper now.

Jan can swim like a fish.

She swims at the beach in the summer.

She is swimming in the pool at the YMCA.

