

Mari Can Not Drive Her Car

Mari can not drive her car.

Mari can't drive her car today.

She turned her key but her car would not start.

She tried turning the key but the car won't start.

Mari called me on her cell phone.

She called me on her phone this morning.

She asked me to pick her up today.

She asked me to give her a ride.

I picked Mari up outside her house.

I picked Mari up this morning.

I drove and she talked about her car.

She told me all about her car this morning.

I asked Mari where she wanted to go.

I asked Mari where she wanted me to take her.

Please take me to the bicycle shop.

Mari asked me to take her to the bicycle shop.

Mari said she did not want to buy another car.

As long as I can pedal, she said.

My bike will always start.

As long as I can pedal,

My bike will always start.
